BROWN'S TRUNK WAS PACKED

He Was Ready on Time This Day, but the House Keys Were Locked up Also.

"This time," said Mr. Brown, triumphantly, "I've got my trunk packed long before the arrival of any possible expressman." Everybody at the breakfast table congratulated him. The habits of Mr. Brown in relation to his trunk were well known to all his friends and acquaintances. They were such that Mrs. Brown had long ago given up any attempt to ameliorate them. She packed her own trunk and left Mr. Brown to deal with his according to his nature. As she sometimes said, "Mr. Brown's trunk always gets to the train, but I take care not to be round when he is packing it."

But this time Mr. Brown had taken time by the forelock. The trunk was packed and the expressman not due for 15 minutes. They all sat down to breakfast in great satisfaction.

Breakfast was half over when Mrs. Brown had a sudden anxious thought.

"Have you the keys to the house, Henry?" she asked, pleasantly.

Mr. Brown paled. He felt in all his pockets. Then he rose nervously from the table, still holding his napkin.

"My goodness!" he exclaimed. "I haven't! They're in the pocket of my other trousers in the bottom of my trunk."

And as the ring of the expressman resounded from the back door Mr. Brown disappeared with long leaps up the front stairway to unpack and repack his famous trunk.

GOSSIP AND SCANDAL.

Many people confuse gossip with scandal, but the two things are quite different. The scandal monger is usually detested, while the gossip is often universally popular. In fact the popularity which it brings in its train is one of the strongest incentives to gossip. A really accomplished gossip is a social acquisition.

Thousands of people who do not gossip themselves like to listen to it. It saves them the trouble of talking. The gossip is generally good natured. The scandal monger seldom is. After all, what is more interesting than human nature? That is the stock in trade of the gossip, as it is of the novelist and the dramatist.—Gentlewoman.

BANTAM HEN, QUAIL BROOD.

Lee Botts, son of Dr. A. T. Botts of Glasgow, has five almost full grown quail that were hatched and raised by a bantam hen. They imitate chickens in all of their habits except to go on a pole to roost.

The mother's repeated attempts to induce her flock to observe the custom of fowling have failed, and she goes with the quail to a corner of the henhouse, where she hovers them all night.—Glasgow correspondence St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

WIN SCHOLARSHIPS.

Miss M. A. Smeaton of the Toronto General hospital and Miss M. S. Rundle of St. Bartholomew's hospital, London, have just won the Isabel Hampton Robb scholarships at Teachers' college. Livingston scholarships were won by Miss Kane Umazawa of St. Margaret's school, Tokyo, and Miss Dorothy Eaton of Chihuahua, Mexico. The fellowships and scholarships in Teachers' college now number 62.

IN THE FAR WEST.

"What is the cause of such uproarious mirth?" demanded the new arrival in the western town.

"Lot of motorists have arrived on a tour," explained Amber Pete, "and the cowboys are laughing at their funny-looking bearskin coats."

"And what are the motorists laughing at?"

"Oh, they are laughing at the cowboys' b'arskin trousers."

NO WONDER.

Gyer—I know a man who actually lives on shavings.

Myer—Get out!

Gyer—Fact. He's a barber.

A MODERN EQUIVALENT.

"My grandmother says they used to have barn dances in her day."

"I see the idea. Now, why couldn't we get up a garage hop?"

KEEP IN TOUCH WITH HOME

Girls Who Live Elsewhere, If They Are Wise, Will Use the Mails Frequently.

Girls, who for any reason at all, are compelled to live away from home, should do anything to sweeten their lives and fill them with good cheer. One of the ways of accomplishing this is to keep in touch and sympathy with the folks at home.

Our greatest means of keeping interest in common with our home folks is correspondence. We should therefore use the mails freely. Write home often. Moreover, make your letters sunny and readable. If you have called on any relatives or friends of the family in the town or city where you are, tell the folks at home all about it. Tell them what you are doing, and how your work or studies are progressing. Inquire after all the folks at home. Remember to let love and good cheer form the keynote of your missive. You will find that the spirit of cheerfulness and kindness, in turn, will reflect on yourself, driving away and eradicating the sense of loneliness you perhaps experience at being separated from home and family.

BIG FOUNDLING OF THE DEEP

Whale's Lost Baby, Sixteen Feet Long, Is Found Swimming in San Francisco Bay.

Sixteen feet was the length of the baby whale that the pilot boat Lady Mine found swimming in San Francisco bay. The baby was not black, like old whales. It was pink, like a last summer's dress that has been many times washed. There were no old whales nearby, and it was apparent to Captain Pentland, as he looked down from the deck of the Lady Mine, that the little whale was a foundling. The sailors on the pilot boat say the captain's heart was touched by the loneliness of the infant and that he knew it was hungry. They say that the captain went below deck and got an oil can and filled it with milk and brought it on deck so that he could give the little whale some dinner. That was good of the captain, but the whale was no longer there when he came back. Maybe the mother whale had been swimming under water not far away and had called her baby. At any rate the captain was left standing sadly on the deck of the Lady Mine, and in his hand was swinging an oil can full of milk.

A FUTURE HETTY GREEN.

The aviator, Count Jacques de Lesseps, apropos of the American girl's head for business, said at a dinner in Baltimore:

"The American girl's financial powers develop early. I know a Detroit millionaire who gave his little daughter, on Christmas, a superb doll's house—a doll's house, lighted with electricity, that had baths and a garage and even, in one corner of its garage, a tiny doll monoplane."

"Well, my dear, do you like your new doll's house?" the little girl's father asked her one day during Christmas week.

"Oh, yes, papa; tremendously," she replied. "But I've let it furnished to Cousin Angelina for $10 a month."

KEEPER OF EARLY RELICS.

Mrs. Eliza Little has for many years been custodian of the government's room at the city hall in New York and has there been hostess to all the distinguished persons. In the room are all the relics of the early days of the country. Mrs. Little is a descendant of two signers of the Declaration of Independence, Joshua Bartlett and Abram Clarke. She is a Daughter of the Revolution and a Holland Dame. Mrs. Russell Sage spent $40,000 a few years ago remodeling and redecorating the rooms, the furniture being colonial, or as near like it as possible.

EXCLUSIVE.

The New Curio—And what are your leanings, Mrs. Abercrombie, high church or low?

Mrs. Abercrombie—Dear me, high, to be sure; I never could abide anything common or vulgar.—Life.

WHAT HE HAD PREACHED.

Blox—I saw by the paper that Jim Ghorner was buried yesterday.

Knox—So did I; and I hope he's satisfied now, he was always preaching "Back to the land."
